

Sarah Mars

MAYA

A Very Special Day

Silbermund

My people often call me their “bundle of joy.”
Or their “chocolate muffin.”

These must be awesome things, because their voices sound so delightful when they say them. It just gives me a cozy feeling in my belly.

They often call me “Wee Maya” or shout “Yucky Maya!”.

When my people shout “Yucky Maya!”, their voices don’t sound very nice. It makes my tummy tighten up.

That means I haven’t done
something quite right.

And that doesn’t feel good
at all.

Should I be afraid too? What is being afraid?

What does a needle look like?

What is a shot?

Have I already learned
about this?

I don't know.

The vet
has just arrived.
I think he's nice.

Now I'm snuggling up with my siblings on our wonderful sofa bed, wishing you all a "Good night!" and closing my eyes.

Maya is a special little Miniature Schnauzer
who sees every day as a great adventure.
But what makes this day so special?
Join Maya and find out how courage and a loving pack can help you master any challenge - no matter how small you are!

illustrated by Pey Pey Siew